Thomas sent this to one of our lawyers (the one he's suing.) He's planning on asking you and Collin to lie on his behalf. "My son and his mother will be filing affidavits to that effect when I file my motion to strike for defective service."

He's also lying by stating that he wasn't even at the house when he was served. He's stating that he was still at the hospital.

Subject: Introduction

Morning Jay,

I'd like to introduce you to Denise Hollas. I have had the fortunate experience of getting to know her over the past month or so. She is a very brave woman who has had to deal with Thomas for decades. She has literally had enough of him, he is bothering her nonstop and has been trying to pressure her into signing false statements. Luckily she's not falling for his crap and has put her foot down. I'm very proud her, Denise and Collin for having the courage to stand up to this monster. I'm going to be traveling for most of the day and will have very limited access to email so I wanted to make a couple of suggestions.

1. I recommended to Denise that she consider getting a restraining order against Thomas today. He is only going to make her life a living hell and even though he openly ignores restraining orders, he can be arrested the second he violates it due to the documented past history of violence he's had against her.
2. I've recommended to Denise that she not sign anything that Thomas (or his new lawyer) ask her to sign. He has already insisted that she sign affidavits that are full blown lies. He doesn't care if he asks her to commit perjury, he only cares about himself.
3. It might make sense for us to get an affidavit over to Denise with some facts. Such as the fact that he's trying to get her to lie about certain things. He's also threatened to have her subpoenaed for Tuesday's hearing.

Bottom line is that we need to protect Denise, Collin and Brittany from Thomas. Their safety is my main concern.

Our take on that comment is that the ex- being referred to is the ex- of He Who Must Not Be Named and that she gave her ex (who is He Who Must Not Be Named) all of the emails that McGibney had been sending her, as well as recording phone conversations she (the ex-) had with McGibney, due to her feeling remorseful at what she had earlier done, as well as being very angry at McGibney calling her a 'bad parent who doesn't care for her daughter' because the ex- refused to believe McStupid's FAKE allegations about her ex-husband, a man she has known for nearly 40 yrs.

That is our take on this just from background info and such. We could be wrong. But, Dear Reader, are we ever wrong? Yeah, didn't think so, either.

Is it true that Night Terrors are caused by things like poor nutrition (from living in a 3rd world country, say), poor sleep quantity / quality (from sleeping on a pad and not a real mattress), and stressful current life events (like suddenly finding yourself being cut off from daddy's money – your sole financial support, cuz u live a ridiculous lifestyle w/ a religious cult)?

But that the biggest factor in all of this is: Having major substance abuse & mental health issues and NOT taking your psych meds like you're supposed to and laying off the hard drugs.

And that it is most definitely NOT caused by your daddy supposedly coming into your room at night and fucking the shit out of you for years & getting you pregnant, which your mind has somehow 'blocked out' and caused you "mental amnesia" and to have Night Terrors. I'm sure that is what Dr. McStupid would want you to believe (because it suits his agenda and, because, he does have that Harvard education after all).

I get a ton of laughs from watching all those video chats between them. I want to put them ALL on YouTube right now, but my non-jewish Aryan Brother lawyer said to hold off till court. sad face el oh el faggots.

He's a master manipulator and now he's resorted to threatening you with lawsuits and death threats like he's done to Brittany. She has stood her ground, please do the same. If you call the police department right now and told them the truth, that he's intimidating you and explain what is going on, they will most likely arrest him. He's blatantly intimidating a witness. Please go get a restraining order. Notice how he's stopped contacting Brittany since the restraining order has been in place? He only contacted her once so far from his "Dean Anderson" alias.
